A Verse For This Week

"Many men and women enjoy popular esteem, not because they are known, but because they are not."—Chamfort.

The New Jail

Bulloch county is contemplating building a new jail.

And we agree it's about time. The present structure has served the county for a long time and in its day was certainly modern and up-to-date, and a credit to the community. Age, however, has taken its toll and its ability to provide the people of the county with type of jail we need.

Time and lack of repairs have given us a jail to be ashamed of. A recent grand jury declared it "not fit for human habitation." Credit for this is not to be placed upon the Sheriff for, with the meagre funds allotted for the upkeep of the structure, he has done remarkably well.

We heartily commend this action on the part of those who are responsible. Few projects of a civic nature are so pressing and so demanding of immediate attention.

As we plan for this undertaking let us not plan blindly and without careful thought. The building constructed will be expected to give long years of service.

The Herald would like to publicly take the lead and go on record calling for a consolidation of the city and county jails.

We are NOT calling for a consolidation of the city and county police systems, but only of the jails. Both police systems would remain separate, as they now are.

We are not calling for city prisoners and county prisoners to be thrown together. The plan we advocate is to allot certain spaces in the new jail for city prisoners and the remaining spaces for county use. Fingerprint files, identification files, scientific police equipment, and other equipment could be installed jointly for joint use.

With these systems working so closely to achieve the same purpose we can see no reason for duplicity. One well-equipped crime laboratory in Bulloch county would adequately serve both systems. Separate office spaces for police officials could be established. The pressing need for a juvenile division of the jail could be taken care of and would serve both city and county.

Cost of the jail could be divided between city and county on the basis of the average number of prisoners and the space allotted to each.

The plan, as we see it, is a good one. The jail is to be constructed near the location of the present structure. Two sites have been proposed: The first is the space next to the city hall, now used as a parking lot. The second is the vacant space to the rear of the present building. Either site seems well suited for the structure. One official has stated that use of the lot immediately behind the present jail would, due to its location on a hill, enable the structure to have loading spaces and garages under the sides of the building, which would provide enclosed spaces for loading and unloading prisoners. The Herald thinks this an excellent suggestion.

Since either location is near the city hall, it would provide no great inconvenience to the police force of the city to operate from headquarters in the jail.

This is only one argument in favor of a combination city-county jail. There would be a large saving in the care and feeding of prisoners. The county now pays the Sheriff a set amount per prisoner per day. City prisoners must be fed by ordering food from a restaurant, the small number of city prisoners not being large enough to warrant the building of kitchen facilities. Consolidation would put all prisoners eating the same meal with the city remitting the county for the number of meals served.

The city-county police radio system which is to be installed soon could function much more efficiently if a joint jail system were installed.

Greater safety for prisoners could be insured. More comfortable and sanitary facilities will be possible. The city jail as it now stands is hardly a fit place to keep a person for any period of time.

The Herald is strongly in favor of a combination city and county jail. We can see many factors in favor of such a move.

And we recommend it to the County Board of Commissioners and the City Council.

Let's get started on it.

A Man Of Vision

One of the speakers at the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting last Thursday said an old man was a man of dreams and a young man was a man of vision. He told his listeners very definitely that he preferred to be called a man of vision.

And to us, the speaker—Superintendent of Schools S. H. Sherman for the progress our city man—is an outstanding example school has made in recent school campus, improvements in in our midst. In all respects he is a man of vision.

Much more than an idealist, Mr. Sherman is a man who puts ideals into action. No idle dreamer he, but a man who moves—not with the masses, but ahead of them.

We commend Superintendent Sherman for the progress our city man—is an outstanding example school has made in recent school campus, improvements in

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week On... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong!

TODAY, THURSDAY, August 28, will be hot with showers.
FRIDAY, August 29, will be fair.
SATURDAY, August 30, will bring thunderstorms.
SUNDAY, August 31, will be stormy.
MONDAY, September 1, will be some cooler.
TUESDAY, September 2, will be clear.
WEDNESDAY, September 3, will be fair and warm.

IN OUR DAILY WANDERINGS in search of news we often find items that we feel are of definite interest but are not sufficiently newsworthy to include on our front page. Often these items find their way into the Uneasy Chair column. And this week is no exception.

In talking with Mayor Gilbert Cone we learned that our observations concerning the courthouse did not go completely unread. We pointed out two weeks ago that a friend had suggested painting the outside of our midtown structure. We disagreed, calling for care of the inside but leaving the outside just as it is. The building, which would provide enclosed spaces for loading and unloading prisoners. The Herald thinks this an excellent suggestion.

The Mayor told us of a tourist, visiting in the city, who came to his business establishment and remarked that the courthouse was one of the most beautiful architectural examples of "southern charm" he had seen. The visitor apparently a professor of history in some northern university, pointed to the good fortune of Statesboro in having such a structure located in the city.

He told the mayor that in his travels he had seen very few buildings that had the "old-time Southern atmosphere" our courthouse possessed.

As we talked with the mayor concerning the courthouse he told us of a plan afoot to save the structure and yet at the same time provide an efficient and modern structure to carry on the functions of county government.

His plan, which he believes will have the approval of the County Board of Commissioners, is to completely remodel the interior of the courthouse, air-conditioning it entirely, or, if that is not practical, air-conditioning the court room.

He pointed to the size of the court room and commented that it should be cut down in size to provide room for more office space and less room for spectators. We agree with him fully here.

Our courthouse is an asset to the community, we believe. As the mayor said, a person can go months. Our news columns two weeks ago carried an account of the improvements in the school's physical plant. Our news columns last week told of improvements in academic standards.

In his address he told the Jaycees of some of the things he has done and some things yet remaining. He spoke of the new dressing rooms and showers to be placed at the football field this week, the new football stands, new seats and athletic equipment for the gymnasium, improvements in shower facilities in the gymnasium, a new band house on the city campus, improvements in to any city and see all the "modern" buildings he was not sure but there are few places one can find buildings such as ours that seem to have a personality and a heritage all their own.

Let's keep our courthouse just as it is.

AS WE WENT ON in our wanderings, we talked with the City Engineer, James Bland, on the question of numbering houses in Statesboro. He told us that he read our editorial concerning the numbering our houses and that he had been trying for some time to find a suitable plan that would enable the city to set up a workable numbering system.

He told us he had consulted with several engineers from cities the size of Statesboro, with engineers from larger cities, and with a planning commission sent here by a governmental unit.

Fun at Home Good Books Are True Friends

By Margaret Charities Lyon
Boys and Girls: Read this to yourselves! Try it for yourselves!

Do you think that you know all about Georgia Teachers' College, the pleasant school on a hill just outside Statesboro? Well, try yourself on this test!

What classroom is painted rose and green?
Under what will you find the best tool shop in this part of Georgia?

Where is art taught?
Where can you hear fine records for children and grownups?

If you made a perfect score you can read right now; if you failed, go out to the campus for a visit some time soon.

An airplane view of the College would show that it is laid out like a bicycle wheel, with a fender to which a conical tail is tied. The wheel is oval around which most of the buildings are laid. The fender is the second street that runs behind the "old campus," with a long tail of road over to the new high school.

You would really enjoy a room-by-room visit through the buildings; a student or faculty member would be glad to take you almost any time. Let me suggest a few sights that you might not find alone.

Anyone would have to feel cheerful in the elementary school, for it was completely repainted this year in a rainbow of colors! Most of you have been in the auditorium of the Administration building. But do you know what you are sitting on—I mean, under the floor? In the basement are two art rooms that make you want to be an artist if you only step inside!

Anderson Hall, with kitchen and dining hall in the basement, students' rooms on the second floor, and classrooms on the third, has more curious things to see than any other spot. In the kitchen are an ice-crushing machine, big stoves that easily cook food for five hundred people, and dishwashing machines that dry dishes, too.

Up outside stairs are the many tiny rooms of the music department and a mechanical drawing room with tall tables and skylights for windows. Another building with a surprise is the gym; walking around to the side facing the lake and you will see a door leading to the industrial department, with thousands of dollars worth of metal and wood-working tools.

I haven't even mentioned the skeleton that lives in the science building, the attractive living rooms in the dormitories, or the room where movies are shown and records are played in the basement of the library. You must discover some things for yourselves.

"Yes, the P.T.A. does need you, for child welfare is the one goal of P.T.A. and nothing is more important or essential than the welfare of children and youth. This, then, is an invitation to YOU from the Statesboro Parent-Teacher Association to join it and to participate fully in its program of work. And, Fathers, this is a very special invitation to you, as this year we hope to interest you in becoming an active member of our association which has as its goal the welfare of YOUR child. We are planning three evening meetings during the year so that Fathers and others who are unable to attend afternoon meetings may have an opportunity to do so."

"The first meeting of the year will be held Thursday, September 11th, at 8 o'clock in the evening. A short informal reception for the faculty will be held in the lunch room immediately after the meeting. Won't you come and meet your child's teacher? And won't you join our organization? The membership fee is fifty cents, but (and we emphasize this), together with your fifty cents we want your active participation as a member, and you cannot be active unless you attend meetings."

"Meetings will be held regularly each first Thursday of the month unless otherwise stated. Yours for a successful P.T.A. for the coming year."

Statesboro PTA Campaigns For Support, Ideas, Interest

"To Every Parent, Teacher and Civic-Minded Adult of Statesboro School:

"The Statesboro Parent-Teacher Association needs you! It needs you because it needs your ideas, your interest, your zest, your strength, your support and your co-operation. You are needed in our P.T.A. because: Children's needs won't wait. It doesn't take long to grow up, and growing up under undesirable conditions means tragedy to the child and loss to the nation. By joining hands with those who care about what happens to the rising generation of America, you can help to overcome these unwholesome influences.

"Many heads are better than one. The P.T.A. is a democratic organization, charged throughout with democratic principles. As a member YOU will have a chance to put your thinking with that of others who are giving useful service to a noble cause. In the P.T.A. A. you, as an individual, COUNT and are counted upon."

"By joining hands with the others who are working for better homes, better schools, and better communities, you can hasten the coming of a better future for all children."

"The P.T.A. provides a unique opportunity for a child's parents to share his school life—to know his teacher, and to become familiar with methods and activities used in the classroom. In P.T.A. meetings and teachers work together to build a mutual understanding of the problems of home and school."

"The P.T.A. helps its members as interested taxpayers and loyal supporters of the school, to keep abreast of changes in the school's curriculum, to know and understand its personal policies, to secure information about its financial needs, and to study the laws that govern public education."

VETERANS CORNER

Questions most frequently asked by veterans about out-patient treatment in a hospital clinic or by their own physicians at Government expense were answered today by the Veterans Administration.

A. Only if you have a service-connected disability, or if you have a non-service-connected ailment and are on leave from a VA hospital and are ordered to report to an out-patient clinic for periodic treatment or examination. Except in rare instances, out-patients treatment is limited to those with service-connected ailments.

Q. Under what circumstances may a patient be admitted to a VA hospital through the out-patient department?

A. Veterans with service-connected disabilities who request out-patient treatment and who are found to be in need of hospitalization, often are assigned to hospitals by doctors in the out-patient clinics. Veterans who have no service-connected disabilities may apply to an out-patient clinic for hospitalization. If a physical examination discloses the need for hospitalization, admission will be arranged.

Q. Does VA provide maternity care to veterans or their dependents through out-patient clinics?

A. No.

Q. May a veteran be treated by his own physician, on the outside, at VA expense?

A. Yes, if he has a service-connected disability and receives prior VA approval for such care.

PARTIES FOR MISS MARGARET STRICKLAND

Miss Margaret Strickland, bride-elect, whose marriage to Jack Wynn will take place Saturday evening, was honored with a lovely party Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Francis Hunter with Mrs. Delray Billy and Mrs. Hunter as hostesses.

Lovely fuschia dahlias and other late summer flowers added to the beauty of the living room where the guests were entertained. A salad course, cocktails and minis were served by the hostesses.

A set of monogrammed crystal tea glasses was presented to Miss Strickland, who was dressed in a raspberry velvet gown with dress with rhinestones at the neckline.

For high in bridge Mrs. Bud Tillman received coaters; such as for low went to Miss Eva Nevill, and for cut Mrs. Bob Blanchard received high jacks. In rummaging Miss Ramona Wynn and Miss Athleen Gupton, Louisville, N. C., won a classic clothes hanger and brush.

Guests included Misses Strickland, Helen Rowe, Vva Nevill, Emma Jean Bohler and Mesdames Bob Blanchard, Bud Tillman, Bob Biglin, J. R. Gay and Herman Bray.

Another interesting compliment to Miss Strickland was given by Mrs. Dallas Salter, of Savannah, who entertained with luncheon at the Pink House on Monday.

For this party Miss Strickland wore a two-piece black dress with a fluted peplum and black accessories.

The three-course luncheon was served from an oval dinner table centered with yellow chrysanthemums. The gift to Miss Strickland was a teaspoon in her silver.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Salter, Misses Strickland, Margaret Bunn, Midville; Beth Stanfield, Glennville; Ramona Wynn, Portal, who will serve at the wedding, and Mrs. Delray Billy, Statesboro, and Mrs. Chester Cooler, Savannah, cousins of the bride.

DELOACH-BROGDON

Of sincere cordial interest to friends and relatives in Statesboro was the marriage Wednesday evening of last week of Miss Helen Mae DeLoach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. DeLoach, of Columbia, S. C., and Wallace Brogdon, of Uvalde.

The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock at Shandon Baptist church in Columbia by the pastor, the Rev. P. Clyde Helms.

The groom had his brother, J. M. Brogdon, of Covington, as best man, and ushers were the bride's two brothers, E. O. and J. G. DeLoach, and Virgil Poss. Miss Rachel Benton, of Washington, D. C., maid of honor, and Miss Betty Mullau, of Cumberland, Md., bridesmaid, wore pale green marquisette dresses with matching hats and carried yellow gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of white marquisette with lace inlays, the full skirt extending into a court train. Her finger-tip veil of net was held to her hair with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white roses and tube roses.

A brilliant reception at Laurel Hill followed the ceremony and later in the evening the couple left for a wedding trip. After September they will be at home at their log home in Uvalde.

Statesboro friends and relatives attending the wedding were Mrs. Cecil W. Brannen, Mrs. J. E. Donehoo, Mr. and Mrs. Inman Foy, Miss Maxann Foy, Inman Foy Jr., Mrs. Robert Donaldson and son, Bobby; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simmons and daughter, Miss Sue Simmons. Mrs. Bruce Oltiff, Miss Dorothy Brannen, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cobb, Mrs. J. P. Foy and Mrs. Jason Morgan, of Savannah.

Mr. and Mrs. Attaway returned Friday but June and Anne visited friends in Marietta returning home Sunday night.

All's Fair

"The Sweetest Story Ever Told" is ringing in my ears. And everyone is smiling. Ain't no time for tears. Our boys are all romancing. They pick out wedding bands. They pledge a love eternal. Even as the desert sands. And our part in the pattern there. Is to write like fairy. That they never face a jury. That home and happiness Will forever be theirs. And that all their little blessings Arrive in pairs.

A note from Ruth Sewell "sorter" kindles in me a desire to do a bit of roaming myself. Maybe Ruth won't mind if I quote. "Have been too zoggled-out to write a decent note. . . this is nothing (Nantucket) is truly like nothing on the mainland. You would like it's streets such as 'East', 'Gay', 'Prosperity', 'Darling', and the best of all is '—' (censored by Jane—but as a tip, complete this movie title: 'The Gorgeous —') Ruth wished for Steve and all the boys when she visited the whaling museum. She visited Benjamin Franklin's mother's home which she left two months before he was born. The all cobblestone walls, cathedral-type houses with wide's walks Ruth termed magnificent. . .

WHEN CAROLYN BOWEN and Frank Christian repeated their "I do's" Julian and Sara Reid Hodges might have silently renewed their marriage vows, for on that very day, six years ago, they were married. Carolyn, who is exactly six years younger than her sister, now shares her sister's wedding anniversary. Carolyn and Frank have planned an identical wedding trip into the mountains of Carolina and Tennessee, both remaining overnight in Augusta at the same hotel.

SO MANY PEOPLE marvelled and exclaimed over the charming and youthful appearance of Claire Macon's mother, Mrs. Marchman, on her recent visit. "Like sisters," everyone was saying. And she has talent as well as charm, for she performed beautifully at the keyboard at a morning party. . .

ALFRED DORMAN sympathizes with Florida coast fishermen whose occupation has been curtailed since the appearance of the mysterious "red tide." He declares the Ogeechee River, especially around Sans Souci, is no longer a fisherman's paradise since Herbert Kingery and his brother-in-law, Paul Robertson, overturned their boat and splash-

GEORGIA, Bulloch County.

Whereas, on the 28th day of December, 1935, Aaron Manoney did make and execute to R. Lee Moore a certain deed to secure debt conveying the following property, to-wit:

That certain tract or parcel of land, lying and being in the 46th District, Bulloch County, Georgia, containing one hundred sixteen (116) acres, more or less, bound Northeast, Northwest, and West by lands formerly owned by John F. Mixon, and Southeast by the lands of the late D. C. Mixon, reference being made to a plat of said land recorded in Book 14, page 385, in the office of the Clerk of Bulloch Superior Court.

Which deed to secure debt was duly recorded in Book 101, page 506 in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court, Bulloch County, Georgia.

Whereas, R. Lee Moore, died, intestate, leaving his widow, Mrs. R. Lee Moore, as his sole heir.

Whereas, Mrs. R. Lee Moore died, testate, naming Miss May Kennedy, executrix of her last will and testament.

Whereas, default has been made by said Aaron Manoney in payment of the indebtedness secured by deed to secure debt as aforesaid, the same being past due and the amount of said indebtedness, principal and interest, calculated to September 1st, 1947, is $2088.72.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said security deed and the laws in such cases made and provided the undersigned will put up and expose for sale to the highest bidder for cash the above described property after advertisement as in said deed to secure debt provided, on the 1st Tuesday in September, 1947, within the legal hours of sale at public outcry, being for the courthouse door in Statesboro, Bulloch County, Georgia, for the purpose of paying said indebtedness and cost of sale, as in said deed to secure debt stipulated.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Miss May Kennedy, executrix of the will of Mrs. R. Lee Moore, has hereunto set her hand and affixed her seal this 1st day of August, 1947.

MISS MAY KENNEDY, Executrix of the Will of Mrs. R. Lee Moore.

Final Plans For Opening City Schools
City School Superintendent S. H. Sherman announced final plans this week for opening of the city school system.
Mr. Sherman said he would make a fifteen-minute radio address tonight over WWSN, beginning at 6:00, and would explain to the public about the new 12-grade school system which begins this year in the city system.
Registration for students will begin Monday morning at 9:00 and continue until every student is registered, the superintendent said. Classes in both elementary and high school will get underway Tuesday morning at 9:00 and continue through the week.
The school lunchroom is scheduled to open Thursday, September 11, and is expected to remain in operation from that time on, Mr. Sherman said.
He advised parents who have children entering school for the first time to furnish the child's birth certificate and with evidence of the child's health department. The requirement of the state law regarding age limits of children beginning school will be strictly adhered to this year, Mr. Sherman said.

Many Horses Entered In Lions Show Sept. 12
"Atomic Mac", owned by Loy A. Waters, will be ridden by Congressman Prince H. Preston, Jr., in the Lions Club-sponsored horse show, scheduled to be held at the airport stadium Friday night, September 12.
Other entries are also rapidly coming in, Kermit Carr, publicity chairman, announced this week.
Approximately fifty horses already have been entered in the four classes, Mr. Carr said.
Entries include "After Dawn", a five-gaited entry by Jack Barrett, of Savannah, with Jane Taylor riding; "Colonel's Dream", a three-gaited entry by Connie Argus, of Savannah, being shown for the first time in Georgia; "Remember Me", whose rider and owner is Jane McMichael, of Macon, and "Cardinal Peachontas", that as a token of appreciation merchants should, if possible, allow as many employees as practical to attend.
He pointed out that it was distinct honor to have the General in Statesboro and that as a token of appreciation merchants should, if possible, allow as many employees as practical to attend.
P. T. A. EXECUTIVE COUNCIL MEETS
The executive council of the P. T. A. met Tuesday morning at the high school with most of the various committees represented.
Mrs. George Johnston gave a short talk on the program plans for the year. The theme for the year concerns the kind of school needed and how to get it. Programs will be planned around the theme.

Gen. William Brougher Speaks In City Tuesday
Brigadier-General William E. Brougher, commanding general of Camp Gordon and hero of the Pacific, will speak in Statesboro Tuesday.
General Brougher, who has filled more than a hundred and twenty speaking engagements since his release from a Japanese prison camp, will come to Statesboro as guest of the Lions Club and will attend a luncheon at noon at the Rushing Hotel given in his honor. Heads of the Senior Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber, Rotary Club and other distinguished guests will join the Lions at the luncheon. At 1:45 the General will speak at the Georgia Theatre where he will be presented by Congressman Prince H. Preston. The program is open to the public and high school students of Statesboro High and Teachers College will be special guests.
General Brougher, though a native of Mississippi, calls Decatur, Georgia, his home. In 1941 he was assigned to command the 11th Division and was made a Brigadier-General. In December, 1941, the 11th Division engaged in combat with the Japanese. After the surrender of Batjan, General Brougher was taken prisoner. He spent his time by writing a book of verse, "The Long Dark Road", which is an emotional history of prison camp experience in poetic interpretation.

League of Women Voters Hold Board Meeting
The first fall meeting of the local League of Women Voters was held this week at the Bulloch County Library.
Plans were discussed for important activities which will engage the interest of this alert group for the coming year.

'Cornzapoppin' To Play Here September 10-11
Mark a big red circle on your calendar for Wednesday and Thursday, September 10 or 11. These are the nights chosen by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to present "Cornzapoppin", a comedy show in three acts put on by local talent.
The show, which is a satire on hillbilly life, will begin promptly at 8:19 both nights and will feature an all-star cast, six of whom will play female parts. Six members of the cast will do a chorus girls' number.
Thirty girls will form four choruses to take part in the show and sing hillbilly songs. A parade Wednesday morning will advertise the show.
Another highlight of the program will be a "Tenny-Tiny-Tots" popularity contest. Children from one day old to six years old are eligible to enter. Entries should be given to Horace McDougald or G. C. Coleman, Jr., at Lammie F. Simmons Co. on North Main Street. Contestants must register after tomorrow noon and all entries must be in prior to 4 p. m. Thursday, September 11.
The King and Queen "Tenny-Tiny-Tot" will be crowned before the play begins Thursday night. Prizes will also be given to the Prince and Princess and the "Duke and Duchess."
The cast will include Natalie Allen, Jr., Jimmy Gunter, "Dub" Lovett, Buford Knight, "Bucky" Atkins, Brannen Puseer, Horace McDougald, Bob Biglin, Parrish Blitch and "Bud" Martin.
Tickets will be placed on sale today by the Jaycees and money received will be used for various Jaycee projects in the community.

Savannah's Fall Festival Starts Tomorrow
A full-dress children's parade, complete with fire trucks, police cars and other vehicles dear to the hearts of children, will be one feature of the big Savannah Days Fall Festival set for tomorrow and Saturday, Jack Duff, publicity chairman, has announced. The parade will be climaxed by a free Fall Festival children's matinee at the Lucas and Avon theatres for youngsters 16 years old and under.
The parade and free matinee will be all children, with no adults permitted.
Children of out-of-town visitors are especially invited to take part in the parade and some as guests of the Fall Festival Committee to the Fall Festival free shows at the Lucas and Avon theatres on Saturday.
The parade will form at the corner of Barnard and Broughton streets promptly at 9 a. m. Saturday morning and proceed through the business area under strict police escort and direction.
The Fall Festival Committee will present each child who marches in the parade and attends the free movie with a suitable souvenir of the first annual Savannah Days Fall Festival.
The Fall Festival will be climaxed by a great show and fireworks at Grayson stadium Saturday night when the U. S. Marine Corps from Parris Island, S. C., will put on scenes of mock warfare replete with flame throwers, demolition material, gunnery exhibitions and other spectacular events.

Age Limits For School
Bulloch county schools this year will strictly adhere to state regulations regarding ages of children entering school, W. E. McElveen, county superintendent of schools, announced this week.
In a joint statement issued with Miss Maude White, visiting teacher for Bulloch schools, the county superintendent warned parents that state regulations are printed in each school attendance register and that they would be carried out. He asked parents not to embarrass the principals or the teachers by asking special favors in letting an underage child enter school.
State regulations require that a child must become six years old before entering school or within 60 school days after the opening of the term. The regulations require teachers to accurately register each child, including his or her true age.
With school opening September 8, children who become six years old after December 2, 1947, will not be eligible to enter school this term, the announcement said. The statement pointed out that a policy had been adopted by school officials requesting that all children entering school for the first time present a birth certificate to the teacher on opening day. They also called upon parents to cooperate in sending children to school who are of the proper age.

Baptist Revival Begins Monday
Twenty-one Baptist churches in Bulloch county are cooperating to stage an "old fashion" revival beginning Monday.
The First Baptist Church of Statesboro, together with 20 other Baptist churches in the Ogeechee River Association, are sponsoring the series of tent-meetings as a climax to the "Ogeechee River Association For Christ" campaign which has just been completed. The campaign has been for promotion of church enlargement, community census, study courses, and visitation campaigns.
The revival is scheduled to be held in a tent located in the 300 block on Savannah Avenue. Tent meetings will be held each night at 8:00, while morning services will be held in the Baptist Church at 10:00.
There will be a choir of some 150 voices selected from choirs of churches cooperating in the revival. Mrs. E. L. Barnes has been named to head the choir committee and Mr. Cliff Bradley has been named to head the ushers and seating committee.
